Q3) Attempt any two: (15)

A) The heights (in cm) of 50 students are recorded as follows

150, 155, 160, 165, 170, 155, 160, 165, 170, 150, 155, 160, 165, 170, 150, 155, 160, 165, 170, 155, 160, 165, 170, 155, 160, 165, 170, 150, 155, 160, 165, 170, 150, 155, 160, 165, 170, 150, 155, 160, 165, 170, 155, 160, 165.

Create a frequency distribution table and then draw a histogram.

B) Write a short note on frequency polygon.

The marks obtained by 50 students in a science test out of 100

45, 67, 82, 90, 54, 73, 64, 85, 79, 68, 91, 76, 88, 56, 69, 73, 84, 92, 66, 71, 82, 75, 63, 77, 89, 85, 74, 58, 72, 81, 65, 87, 93, 61, 70, 84, 91, 78, 66, 83, 69, 76, 86, 62, 75, 68, 79, 90, 82, 71.

Create a frequency distribution table and draw a frequency polygon for this data.

C) Write a short note on Ogive graph.

Below is the frequency distribution table of marks obtained by students in a mathematics test out of 100.

Marks Range	0-10	10-20	20-30	30-40	40-50	50-60	60-70	70-80	80-90	90-100
Marks Range	2	3	5	6	8	10	7	6	2	1

Draw and ogive graph for the given data.

Q4) Attempt any two:

(15)

A) Find mean, median and mode for the following data

class interval	0 - 20	20-40	40-60	60-80	80-100
frequency	23	37	50	24	16

B) The sum of highest and lowest values in a group of observations is 40. the coefficient of range is 0.2. find the highest and lowest values in the group

C) Determine the standard deviation and coefficient of variation of the marks.

Daily wages	300-400	400-500	500-600	600-700	700-800	800-900
No of worker	7	13	21	15	8	5

Q5) Attempt any three:

(15)

A) Define : (a) Population (b) Sample (c) Statistic
(d) Continuous data (e) Discrete data.

B) Draw a line graph depicting the stock prices of Company X from Monday ($100), Tuesday ($105), Wednesday ($110), Thursday ($108), Friday ($112), Saturday ($115), and Sunday ($118).

C) The ages of 40 employees in a company are recorded as follows:

25, 32, 27, 35, 29, 40, 33, 28, 26, 38, 34, 31, 30, 36, 29, 27, 32, 28, 30, 35, 26, 29, 40, 31, 33, 28, 36, 30, 27, 35, 29, 34, 30, 28, 33, 37, 39, 32, 30, 31.

Create a frequency distribution table.

D) Calculate the range and the coefficient of range.

i) The following are the temperatures recorded (in degrees Celsius) over a week:

22 30 25 35 28 31 20 40 29

ii) The following are the heights (in cm) of a group of athletes:

Q2.a) Read the following passage and write a summary based your understanding of it(06)

Technology has revolutionized the way we communicate, making it faster and more convenient than ever. With the advent of social media, instant messaging, and video conferencing, people can connect across the globe in real time. However, this shift brings both opportunities and challenges for effective communication. One of the key advantages of technology is the ability to share information quickly. Updates can be disseminated instantly, allowing for timely responses to events. However, the rapid pace can sometimes lead to misunderstandings. Tone and intent can easily be misinterpreted in written communication, making clarity more crucial than ever. Additionally, while technology facilitates connectivity, it can also create barriers to deep, meaningful conversations. The prevalence of digital interactions may lead to a decline in face-to-face communication skills, as individuals become accustomed to short, text-based exchanges. This can hinder the development of empathy and emotional intelligence, which are vital for building strong relationships. To navigate this landscape effectively, it is essential to strike a balance between digital and personal communication. Utilizing video calls can help preserve some non-verbal elements, while being intentional about face-to-face interactions fosters deeper connections. By leveraging technology thoughtfully, we can enhance our communication rather than let it diminish the quality of our interactions.
